Another FIRST for Altamonte Springs

Have you ever driven by one of those really big retention ponds along I-4 and said to yourself, “That is so ugly. There’s got to be a better way to do this!” Well, your City has found a better way!

In another FIRST for Altamonte Springs, and for the first time ever in Florida, the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) has agreed to NOT build a retention pond and instead, the City will capture stormwater from I-4 and treat the stormwater to be used for irrigation. You’ve heard so much in the news about how Florida is running out of water and how we need to find an alternative to taking water from the aquifer. Your City is doing just that. We found a way to harness stormwater run off from I-4 in Altamonte Springs and use it.

The brainchild of city engineers, the project is called Altamonte Springs-FDOT Integrated Reuse and Stormwater Treatment (A-FIRST for short) and is the first partnership of its kind in Florida. The partnership is made up of the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) and the City of Altamonte Springs, along with the Florida Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), the St. Johns River Water Management District and the City of Apopka.

Before A-FIRST, stormwater would run off I-4 and flow into drainage ponds along the side of the road. Over time, the water and some pollutants would seep into the groundwater. Now, stormwater will be captured, treated and redirected into the City’s reclaimed water system and then used for irrigation. When we have extra stormwater, we won’t waste it. In true regional fashion, the City will send any of its remaining water to the City of Apopka, which is experiencing water shortages of its own. In the process of creating what is called an “alternative water supply,” the project also reduces impacts to area springs and improves water quality in the Little Wekiva River. The project is being almost entirely funded by the State of Florida through their savings from NOT having to build retention ponds.

We have a reclaimed water system throughout the City (Project APRICOT), with almost every property connected to the system to irrigate lawns and landscaping. But it is easy to forget that when Project APRICOT, the official name of our reclaimed water program, was first proposed by Altamonte Springs in 1981, it was also the FIRST system of its kind in the southeast United States. While communities around the state are struggling to fund and install reclaimed water systems today, ours started 33 years ago and is still the model used by planners and engineers. A-FIRST is just another FIRST in a series of FIRSTs for Altamonte Springs. The City of Altamonte Springs is recognized nationally as a leader in environmental sustainability, done in a business-oriented way.

What They’re Saying About A-FIRST

Florida Governor Rick Scott said, “A-FIRST is forward thinking and addresses a broad range of issues: increasing mobility, protecting the environment and meeting the needs of growth, and we’re doing it in a business-like approach, involving state and local partners.”

FDOT Secretary Ananth Prasad said, “You can certainly expect more of these interagency partnerships in the future.”

Frank Martz, Altamonte Springs City Manager, said, “Altamonte Springs believes in innovation and looking for better ways to do business. A-FIRST makes sense for the environment and for taxpayers.”

HGTV Comes to Altamonte Springs

There were lights, a camera and action. But anyone driving through Altamonte Springs wouldn't have had a clue that a national television network was filming here.

On the shores of Cranes Roost Lake and hidden in the oasis of Lake Lotus Park, a producer, cameraman and crew spent the day filming segments for a new HGTV web series, "My New Hometown."

Altamonte Springs was one of three cities in America to be featured in short vignettes, sponsored by Chase Mortgage, highlighting great new hometowns. The cities were chosen from the top 15 towns across the country that presented affordable real estate options, great amenities, fun things to do and, of course, desirable climate.

We are proud that yet again, Altamonte Springs is ranked among the top three places to live in America! HGTV's web series "My New Hometown" is scheduled to go live April 1. Make sure you tune in!

The HGTV crew interviews Sam Momary, retired Seminole County high school principal, about the City of Altamonte Springs.

WHAT DID YOU DO DURING YOUR Summer Vacation?

As kids, we all heard this question on the first day of school. Some of us even had to answer it in a much dreaded essay. While this long-time tradition may be a thing of the past, a kid's summer experiences should be remembered as some of the best times of their childhood.

There are plenty of options to keep your children busy this summer, and many can be found right here in Altamonte Springs. Altamonte Recreation offers programs and activities that will definitely have your kids talking for months to come.

YOUTH CAMP June 2 – August 1

Hosted at Westmonte Park, Youth Camp has it all! This camp, for children ages 6 to 12, offers a fun, well-rounded summer camp experience where campers get to do a little bit of everything including arts and crafts, movies, indoor games, sports, field trips and swimming. Each day offers a new opportunity to spend time with schoolmates, make new friends, laugh and learn. Campers are divided into age groups by gender. Camp runs Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. with early drop off starting at 7 a.m. and late pick up until 6 p.m. Cost is $335. Discounts for multiple children are available. For more information, call (407) 571-8730.

TEEN CAMP June 2 – August 1

Finding activities for young teens can be tough, which is why Teen Camp was created for adolescents ages 13 to 15. The camp offers a unique opportunity for teens to have fun while developing leadership skills to better equip them for the future. Through team building activities, field trips to local businesses, sessions on job interviewing, resumé preparation and budget planning; our campers will become more aware of themselves as positive and unique individuals serving their friends, family and community. Teen Camp also offers fun activities including swimming, sports, rap forums and more! Camp runs Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Camp locations are Teague Middle School and Lake Brantley South Gym. Cost is $335 for the nine-week session or $50 per week. Discounts for multiple children are available. For more information, call (407) 571-8729.

BASKETBALL CAMP First Session: June 9 – 13

In addition to the youth and teen summer camps, Altamonte Recreation also offers four separate basketball camps for boys and girls ages 8 to 15. Led by former Orlando Magic player, Anthony Bowie, each camp focuses on basic fundamentals and skill development with daily scrimmage games and fun competition. Campers learn the value of good sportsmanship, cooperation and self-esteem. Sessions run Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Lake Brantley Fieldhouse with early drop off starting at 8 a.m. and late pick up until 5 p.m. Cost is $125 per session. DISTRICT 2 CITY COMMISSIONER | RESIDENT SINCE 1991

STEVE WOLFRAM

Like many residents of Florida, Steve Wolfram is a transplant born in Brooklyn, New York. After taking college business courses, Steve joined the U.S. Army and served in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He spent three years in France building roads on military bases. After the Army, Steve began working in the credit and collection industry. In 1972, he moved to Pompano Beach, served as a Cub Scout Leader, helping out with Brownies, gymnastics, Pop Warner Football and Little League Baseball. In 1979, Steve and his wife, Sharron, relocated to central Florida and, in 1986, they started Liberty Collection Bureau in Altamonte Springs.

Steve and Sharron have lived in Altamonte Springs since 1991. He's served on the City's Board of Zoning Appeals, Planning Board, Personnel Administration Board and Redistricting Committee. Steve has received numerous honors from boards and associations on which he's served. He has also served on the 17-92 Redevelopment Committee; Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Director of the Board of Directors for the Better Business Bureau of Central Florida and Vice-President of the Florida Collectors' Association, as well as serving on the Wekiva Taskforce. Steve has been an advocate of the City's neighborhood preservation programs, the Altamonte Springs Science Incubator, which serves Seminole County students, and the City's stabilized property tax rates for our residents. But of all his accomplishments, Steve is proudest to be a grandfather to four of the most beautiful, well-behaved, perfect grandchildren anyone could want.

Steve has served on the City Commission since 1999.

Jon Batman is a native Floridian born and raised in Tampa. He moved to Orlando in 1960 and has been a resident of Altamonte Springs since 1976.

Jon and his wife, Linda, were married for 41 years, until her death in 2009. His two cats, Grady and Gracie, continue to put up with him.

Jon is a graduate of Rollins College, IBM's Systems Research Institute and IBM/Harvard's Presidents Class. He served as an officer in the Florida National Guard, 2nd Battalion, 124th Infantry in Orlando and is a graduate of Florida National Guard Officer Candidate's School.

Jon began his career with IBM in 1968 as a consultant to the Florida State Department of Education, the result of which was a new DOE Accounting System. Following that, he became an IBM consultant to the 7-Eleven Corporation where he assisted in the development of a state of the art store distribution system, which was replicated worldwide. He continued his career with IBM as a Senior Programmer in the development of the first supermarket scanning system and communications architecture at Research Triangle Park, NC and a Senior Systems Engineer in Florida. Jon retired from IBM in 1991 and provided information systems consulting services and systems engineering for various school districts, municipalities and private companies. He closed his consulting business in 2005 to care for his wife.

Jon has served on the City's Code Enforcement Board, Personnel Administration Board and was elected to the City Commission in 2003.

Arbor Day Tree Giveaway

Altamonte Springs is proud of its trees. For the last 24 years, the City has been given the prestigious Tree City USA award by the Arbor Day Foundation.

The Tree City USA program provides an opportunity to educate people about the value of tree resources, the importance of sustainable tree management and engage individuals and organizations in advancing tree planting and care across the urban forest.

One of the standards for Tree City USA recognition is Arbor Day observance. Altamonte Springs celebrates Arbor Day each year with a tree giveaway during which hundreds of trees are given to City residents.

This year City residents are invited to visit Eastmonte Park or Westmonte Park on Friday, April 25 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. to select free trees while supplies last. A variety of trees is available, which can be planted at any location on the resident's property. Each residence is allowed two trees. Proof of residency is required. City staff members are on hand to answer questions and help in tree selection.

Participating in the tree giveaway helps residents feel good about the place they live and work. Our environment is improved by increasing the tree canopy and the tree diversity throughout the City. It also provides the opportunity to learn more about trees and how to care for them.

Trees touch the lives of everyone in the community by providing cleaner air, shadier streets and an aesthetic beauty that a healthy, well-managed urban forest provides.
